PERSONAL SKILLS

Adaptability

I started studying in New Zealand when I was 13 years old. From being unable to communicate well in English as I was studying in Thailand, I learned English and excelled academically and socially.

Creativity

At Rangitoto College, I had chosen and excelled in subjects such as Multi-Media Technology (ICT). I needed to design high-quality digital designs with high creative input in the subject.

Communication and Collaboration

I had chosen and excelled in subjects that require Team communication and asking for feedback, such as ICT and Programming. I needed to make high-quality websites and computer programs using customer and team feedback in the subject.

Critical thinking

I had chosen and excelled in a subject area that requires critical thinking, such as Geography. In the subject, I need to write and submit multiple essays that require high critical thinking skills, such as How to solve Global Warming.

Bilingual

I can speak and write two languages fluently, English and Thai.
